Dutch Protest Royal Marriage

German Made Prince

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP) — Crown Princess Beatrix, the future queen of the Netherlands, married a handsome German diplomat today as 1,000 demonstrators tried to march on the royal palace. Club-swinging police beat them back.

The bridegroom, Claus Von Amsberg, 39, grew up under Hitler and as a youth served in the German army. The marriage made him a prince of the Netherlands, entitled him to an annual allowance of $83,000, and changed his name to the Dutch, Van Amsberg.

The demonstrators, most of them youths, shouted condemnations of the bridegroom and republican slogans but were about half a mile from the wedding procession through Amsterdam. The police dispersed the crowd as it started to march on the palace.

Flowers A Reminder
In the former Jewish quarter flowers were placed at the monument to the wartime resistance movement against the Germans. Youths also set off smoke-bombs in protest against the marriage.

But thousands of Dutchmen, many waving flags, cheered the 28-year-old "smiling princess" and her bridegroom as the bridal procession moved through Amsterdam.

The government had proclaimed a national holiday, but the turnout fell far short of what palace officials had hoped for. Some observers estimated about 80,000 lined the five-mile route. Police said that 250,000 could be accommodated.

A slight drizzle began to fall as the royal procession moved from the City Hall to the ancient Westerkirk (West Church) for the religious ceremony.

The crown princess and the new Dutch prince smiled and waved in response to cheers as they rode to the church for the religious ceremony.

Beatrix was deeply moved and appeared on the verge of tears as the minister delivered the wedding sermon on the theme "Narrow is the road, which is leading to heaven. I am your Lord, follow me," Van Amsberg looked grave.

The minister, the Rev. Johannes Hendrik Sillevius Smitt, made an indirect reference to the protests about the marriage as he gave this advice: "Is it possible to face heartless criticism, to face disrespectful threat without becoming bitter? Yes."

Von Amsberg's hand trembled and he had trouble putting the ring on her finger. Beatrix took over and helped. Both smiled at the fumbling.

A simple civil ceremony in Amsterdam's City Hall preceded the glittering church wedding before a gathering of Europe's dwindling royalty.

The traditional marriage oath "to heed and obey" was omitted from the rites of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Robb Seeking Congress Aid In Viet Help Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Jerome Robb of Pontiac, Mich., met Wednesday with Michigan members of Congress to enlist support for his program to send large amounts of medical supplies and equipment to South Viet Nam.

Robb, 52-year-old osteopath, recently spent six weeks in Viet Nam at his own expense after the U. S. government told him, he said, that osteopaths would not be welcome there.

He plans to go back to Viet Nam with his wife early in July to head up a program which has the backing of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Robb project would be a part of the JayCees program called Project Free People, which seeks to alleviate human suffering throughout the world.

Robb said after conferring with Reps. William S. Broomfield, Gerald R. Ford and Robert P. Griffin, Michigan Republicans, that they approve the program and he expects to meet with other members of the state's delegation, both Republicans and Democrats, to explain and seek help for the plan.

Hook Challenges Ray Clevenger

LANSING (AP)—Former U.S. Rep. Frank Hook of Ironwood says he will challenge U.S. Rep. Raymond Clevenger, Sault Ste. Marie, in the Aug. 2 Democratic primary. Hook, 72, represented the old 12th District from 1935 to 1947. He was defeated by Republican Homer Ferguson in the 1948 U. S. Senate race.

Congress Asked To Restore War Tax Reductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration sought today to persuade Senate-House conferees to drop two Senate amendments that took a $1 - billion chunk out of a $6-billion tax bill designed to help finance the Viet Nam war.

Chances for dropping the two provisions appeared good as the conferees try to compromise Senate and House versions and meet President Johnson's March 15 deadline for final congressional action on the measure.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a reporter he had been advised the House conferees would stand firm against the two amendments.

One would provide Social Security coverage for 1.8 million persons over 70 not covered now. The other would confine reinstatement of the 10 per cent excise tax on phone calls to long-distance calls while keeping it at 3 per cent for local residential calls.

Speed Payments
Major provisions in the bill are reimposition of taxes on phone calls and car sales that were cut Jan. 1, a graduated withholding system for collection of personal income taxes and a speedup in payment of corporation taxes.

Senators Scan China Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee takes a close look at U.S.-China policy today.

In its second public hearing on China, the committee was to hear from Prof. John F. Fairbank, director of Harvard's East Asian research center.

He is on record as a believer in military containment of China, but as favoring U.S. recognition of the Communist regime in Peking and its admittance into the United Nations.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee heard testimony Wednesday by John D. Rockefeller III on another phase of the Asian problem — exploding population.

Rockefeller, chairman of the Asia Society, said it is in the U.S. national interest to help developing countries with stabilization of population.

He cited U.N. estimates that the population of Asia, now numbering 1.8 billion, will reach the total of 4.4 billion by the year 2000.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., predicted the Senate conferees would abandon the two amendments "before they get to the rotunda." The Senate conferees pass through the rotunda in the center of the Capitol on the way to meet the House group.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged that the President had sent up a "picayune bill" not geared to meet the government's needs in the war crisis.

As the bill cleared the Senate Wednesday by a 79-9 vote, it would provide a net of less than $5 billion.

Senate Confused
The Social Security amendment by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., adopted 45 to 40 Tuesday, would cost an estimated $750 million.

And the proposal by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., to knock out of the bill the increase in the excise on local residential telephone service would wipe out $315 million of the bill's revenue.

The Senate became so confused Wednesday in voting on Hartke's proposal that it adopted the amendments by a vote of 46 to 42 in a form which actually repealed the entire excise levy on residential service.

But Hartke said this was a mistake. He finally got consent to change it to carry out his original intention of leaving the residential phone tax at 3 per cent.

The President's supporters beat back 47 to 37 a proposal of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to provide for deductions of up to $325 for annual college education expenses. It would have cost about $1 billion a year starting in 1968.

Seek College To Meet Job Needs

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Establishment of a Kalamazoo County community college to meet specific job and educational needs was recommended Wednesday before the State Board of Education in Lansing.

It was contained in a special report compiled after an 18-month study by a citizens' committee initiated by the Kalamazoo Parent-Teachers Council.

The report said surveys of nearly half of the 11th grade students in the county, approximately 2,500, indicated they would attend a specialized school, community college or technological school if one were available.

It further said area employers claim a shortage of workers in nearly all fields.

U.S. Plans No War Blockade

FIVE-YEAR-OLD Judy Lynn Funsch of Flint rests in her hospital bed at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor, preparatory to surgery today. Without surgery, doctors fear she would not live more than a few years. An obstruction in a blood vessel blocks blood flowing to the heart. (AP Wirephoto)

Delicate Surgery Child's Only Hope

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Frail Judy Lynn Funsch, a cheerful 5-year-old, today underwent heart surgery that could give her the chance to grow up normally.

The pretty blonde who weighs only 28 pounds, was wheeled into the operating room shortly before 8 a.m.

Judy Lynn suffers from a rare obstruction of a vein that carries oxygenated blood from the lungs to the heart.

She was not aware that the 10-man University of Michigan team that performed the delicate surgery was not optimistic about her chances for surviving the operation.

Doctors told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Funsch, that without the operation, Judy has only a few years to live. If surgery is successful, she has a chance for a normal life.

Judy has been enjoying her stay in the hospital's pediatrics ward.

"This will be exploratory surgery to see if help can be offered to the child," explained one of the physicians on the team. "We may not be able to do anything for her."

As the story of Judy's plight became known around the country, heartfelt messages of encouragement arrived at the hospital.

A couple wired from Bogusla, La.:

"Our son had heart surgery at age 4. He's now a normal and happy boy. We had to make a similar decision. You can know that if anything happens Thursday it is God's will and you have done everything possible as parents to give Judy a normal life. Our prayers are with you and Judy."

And a woman telephoned from Pennsylvania to help cheer up the Funches, whose home is in Genesee Township, a suburb of nearby Flint, Mich.

"She said 'you don't know me and I don't know you, but my husband has open heart surgery twice. We're just a young couple and we know what you're going through,'" related Mrs. Funsch.

The parents scouted Ann Arbor for a special Roman Catholic heart to pin on the girl before she entered the operating room.

"We have a lot of faith in the doctors," the mother observed. "But we're putting our final faith in God."

The orphans are supported by sponsors who pledge $10 a month. Some 500 Americans have made such pledges.

Hall, who is 46, currently is trying to raise funds from 20,000 Church of Christ congregations in this country.

Vote Districts Set 'Til 1972

LANSING (AP) — Any chance that existing legislative apportionment would be upset apparently disappeared Jan. 12, according to several paragraphs buried deep inside the Supreme Court's 75-page decision upholding the districts.

Justice Otis Smith, in one of the court's seven apportionment opinions issued Tuesday, referred to a January vote in which five of the eight justices refused to declare the existing Austin-Kleiner plan unconstitutional.

"Although the vote was negative on a motion to declare Austin-Kleiner unconstitutional and offensive to the 1963 State Constitution," wrote Smith, "when this court says that a matter is not unconstitutional, this necessarily means that it is constitutional."

By, in effect, a 4-4 decision Tuesday, the court refused to act on a citizens' suit challenging constitutionality of the Austin-Kleiner plan and attacking it as a gerrymander.

Thus as of now, that Democratic-drawn districting plan will stay in effect until 1972.

Not Now
Mundt said he suspects that in time there will be action to halt the shipping of supplies to North Viet Nam.

"I think the time is going to come when we will have to act to cut off the supplies that are going into Haiphong," Mundt said. "There are several ways it can be done and I would not be surprised if some action is taken soon."

Mansfield said, however, that Taylor was speaking on his own and not in his capacity as a presidential adviser.

"I feel that the President is not giving any serious consideration to any such move at this time," he said.

The Democratic leader said that State and Defense Department studies indicate that Allied and neutral shipping to North Viet Nam has been reduced drastically.

Mansfield Says China Would React To Mines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he does not believe President Johnson is giving consideration at this time to proposals to blockade North Viet Nam ports.

Mansfield said in an interview he thinks any action to mine the harbor of Haiphong, bomb the docks there or intercept supply ships would bring a confrontation with the Soviet Union that might drive the Soviets and the Chinese Communists closer together.

He gave his views as a feeling of uneasiness spread among some senators that Johnson may be considering fresh action to diminish military supplies reaching the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that this feeling is based on a statement by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor that he is inclined to believe the time has been reached to mine the Haiphong harbor from the air to cut off shipping.

Taylor, a part-time presidential adviser, said he was giving only his personal opinion. But Mundt said he doubts the general would have made such a statement without at least tacit White House approval.

To Be Debated
This and other Viet Nam war questions were likely to be raised in a Senate debate on a $415-million foreign aid authorization, including $275 million in emergency funds for South Viet Nam.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, turned over management of the measure to Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala. Fulbright, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he lacked enthusiasm for the bill.

The committee, in recommending approval of the measure Wednesday, said it has doubts expenditures in South Viet Nam will provide a better life for the people there.

"Until the military situation improves," the committee said, "our aid program is likely to be little more than a holding operation keeping the wolves of rampant inflation away from the door and providing relief where needed."

Want Reforms
"The committee hopes that the officials of the South Vietnamese government will vigorously pursue a program of economic and social reforms as pledged in the declaration of Honolulu. This committee will remain skeptical until words are matched with deeds."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said in a supplemental statement the committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policy produced evidence the reasons for the "present size and scope of United States involvement in Southeast Asia are subject to question" and raise the danger of the war becoming "open-ended."

Clark and Church announced they would vote for the bill but agreed with Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., that this would not reflect "a ratification" of the conduct of the war or indicate any future commitment.

The bill already has passed the House.

Not Now
Mundt said he suspects that in time there will be action to halt the shipping of supplies to North Viet Nam.

"I think the time is going to come when we will have to act to cut off the supplies that are going into Haiphong," Mundt said. "There are several ways it can be done and I would not be surprised if some action is taken soon."

Mansfield said, however, that Taylor was speaking on his own and not in his capacity as a presidential adviser.

"I feel that the President is not giving any serious consideration to any such move at this time," he said.

The Democratic leader said that State and Defense Department studies indicate that Allied and neutral shipping to North Viet Nam has been reduced drastically.

State Church Has Peace Corps

Pastor Resuming Viet Mission

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old suburban church plans to send its former pastor to Viet Nam next month with his wife, two sons and a private Peace Corps.

The Rev. Maurice Hall, former pastor of the Royal Oak Church of Christ who already has spent 21 months in Viet Nam helping the needy, expects to leave in mid-April with his wife, Marie, and sons, William, 21, and Ronnie, 9.

Another son, 25, will be waiting for them—as a Marine stationed at Chu Lai.

The Halls hoped to be followed by a six-member survey team including a doctor, legal adviser, child welfare expert and educator whom the church elders are trying to recruit.

The team will pinpoint what relief measures would be most useful to Vietnamese civilians. Its members will be expected to pay most of their own expenses during a six-week stay.

A group of 25 young people, all members of the church, will go to Saigon in August to work

City Loses Cops To Better Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — Thirty city policemen have quit their jobs since the first of the year, mostly to take better-paying work, Commissioner Ray Girardin said Wednesday.

The figure compares with 15 resignations over the same period of time last year.

Girardin said 80 per cent of the resignations this year were for reasons of pay. He said the economic boom is responsible.

The Detroit patrolman's base pay starts at about $6,400 a year and reaches $7,335 after four years service. Detroit has approximately 4,600 policemen.

mainly as teachers. They will be paid subsistence wages, a church spokesman said.

"As far as the government is concerned we are pretty small. It's pretty ambitious when a local congregation spearheads such a movement. We hope it will develop into a $5 million assistance program among all our congregations," said the Rev. Mr. Hall.

For 21 months, the Rev. Mr. Hall was acting dean of the American Vietnamese International School that provided elementary schooling to 87 children of eight nationalities.

He also started an adoption agency which tries to place as many as possible of the estimated 50,000 homeless children in Saigon with Vietnamese families.

The orphans are supported by sponsors who pledge $10 a month. Some 500 Americans have made such pledges.

Hall, who is 46, currently is trying to raise funds from 20,000 Church of Christ congregations in this country.

Mental Health Bill Is Signed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney signed into law today a bill to increase the state's support of community mental health programs to 75 per cent of the total cost.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Charles Raap, D-Muskegon, was hailed in the House as "one of the most significant steps in mental health in years."

It is intended to strengthen community programs first authorized by the 1963 Legislature. State aid has been limited to a maximum of 60 per cent of local cost and a rate equivalent to $1 for each man, woman and child in the community involved.

The bill also eliminates the requirement that persons who can afford to pay for private treatment be barred from public programs.

The bill increases the possible combinations of local governments that can get together to institute such programs.

The measure has immediate effect.

THE REV. MAURICE Hall, his wife, Marie, and son, Donnie, 9, will be returning to Viet Nam next month to carry on work among the needy that the family did last year. This time they'll be heading a private Peace Corps of a 6-member survey team and 25 volunteers sponsored by the Royal Oak Church of Christ, where the Rev. Mr. Hall used to be pastor. (AP Wirephoto)

College President Says Job Schooling Isn't For Low Rated Students

President Richard Rinehart of Bay de Noc Community College, Escanaba, told a breakfast meeting of Vocational Education Division officials of the State Department of Education at the Liberty Cafe, Manistique, today that some compromises on goals for U.P. vocational education will have to be made.

The state would like to make effective vocational education (teaching of usable job skills) available to the half of Upper Peninsula students who don't go on to college or other schools after high school. Rinehart suggested that not more than 30 per cent is a more realistic ratio of students for U.P. vocational education. The low population of the Peninsula imposed special problems, he said and vocational education instruction classes cannot be combined without deterioration of job skill instruction to a point where it will be back into the ineffectual old realm of "industrial arts."

Nor will it be helpful, suggested Rinehart, to consider the vocational education program as a place for persons with low intelligence. "Many vocational skills require sharp people," said Rinehart. "Some of them call for a higher IQ than the academic courses."

Committee Meeting The breakfast was a prelude to a meeting today of the Human Resources Committee of the Upper Peninsula Committee For Area Progress on the vocational education problem of the U.P.

Rinehart said "Supt. Edwin Wuehle of the Manistique Schools recently pointed out the fact that vocational education deserves to be and can be much better supported financially in areas such as this part of the Upper Peninsula. I certainly agree with him and hope that schools will take the suggestions to heart and begin to finance programs of education leading directly to employment to a much greater extent."

"As he pointed out, schools somehow find it possible to pay for athletic activities, when they have been able adequately to support technical education."

"It is true that many of the communities find it difficult to support a comprehensive program of education. However, local values are involved to a greater extent than finances. These values must be determined by the local board of education and the decision must be made at that level, if we are to have continued success in our system of public education."

Money Not All "The thoughts expressed here and the ideas of educational leaders like Mr. Wuehle are offered in hope that the boards of education will find it possible to analyze their values and possibly find a greater appreciation of the needs of many youths. These youths who might well be served by high quality occupation education might also profit from cultural programs. The relative merit of the two needs should be analyzed in making plans.

"Money alone will not solve the problems of vocational education. The truly vocational education must be realistic, effective and sufficiently specialized. The Michigan State Plan for Vocational Education makes very clear that vocational education must be aimed at a specific occupation — not general, such as industrial arts — must be planned and taught with the advice and counsel of employers, must be offered for students definitely planning on entering that specific occupation, and must include related work experience."

"It should be fully intended that only those students having realistic expectations of entering the designated employment be admitted to the program and that most of the graduates of such a program will actually enter the work. Therefore, specific laboratories, specific faculties and specific plans should be made for vocational curricula."

Specialization Urged "All this helps to identify the major problem here in the Upper Peninsula — an insufficient number of students. It would seem to be impossible to set up an approvable program for fewer than 20 students — possibly 10 11th graders and 10 12th graders."

"It would seem inappropriate to combine students in vocational classes unless they were in closely related occupations."

"A hazard is that a school having three good vocational programs, for example, might be tempted to add unqualified students. It is not the purpose of vocational education to provide a home for the low I.Q. student, or a refuge for the lazy."

"A suggested task for the U.P. schools is the offering of as many quality vocational programs as can be handled and then to offer a well-planned program of general education for those students whose desires and attitudes do not correspond to the available programs."

"One of the large employers of the U.P., the paper mills, would be better served by a program of general education, because the skills necessary in paper making are not teachable; a sense of feel is necessary and this can only be developed by sufficient experience on the job."

"I concur that much more money should be spent on vocational education and add the caution that schools should not attempt to offer over-general vocational programs."

Entry Deadline Friday For '66 Queen Pageant

The final "Coke Party" prior to the close of entries for the 1966 Delta County Queen Pageant will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in room 10 of Bay de Noc Community College.

Entries for the pageant, which is the first step in the Miss America contest, close Friday, according to Bill DeHaan, pageant chairman for the sponsoring Escanaba Jaycees.

Girls interested in entering may attend the party tonight or contact Don Moreau, entry chairman for details.

The Miss Delta County pageant will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, April 16, in the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium.

DeHaan told the Jaycees at their regular meeting Wednesday night that a 13-piece orchestra will provide music during the contest, which will select Delta County's entry in the Miss Michigan Pageant scheduled later this summer. Sandra Maki of Gladstone is current Miss Delta County.

Doctor Urges Influenza Shots

Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Dept., has advised influenza immunizations to protect against an outbreak of influenza and influenza-like diseases which have been spreading inland from the East and West Coasts.

"There are two types of influenza virus causing the outbreaks, type B and Asian virus," Dr. Cretens said. "With the Asian virus, particularly, there has been an increase in deaths."

"Influenza immunizations are especially advised for persons over 50 years of age and those with chronic conditions such as heart disease, asthma, tuberculosis and emphysema."

Fire In Home Kills Infants

WYOMING (AP) — Two young sisters died in a fire that swept through their single story, frame home in this Grand Rapids suburb Wednesday night.

The victims were Laura Marie Colley, 20 months, and her seven-month-old sister, Jo Ann Lynn. They were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Colley.

Vern Hyde Jr., an assistant fire chief, suffered burns when a television set exploded beside him in the living room.

Police said Colley and his wife, Bonnie, 21, were visiting neighbors when the fire broke out. Mrs. Colley said she had been away less than five minutes when she returned to find the house filled with smoke and flames. She said she was unable to enter the house and returned to her neighbors to summon help.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Quincy Workers Back In USW

HANCOCK (AP) — The 90 employees of Quincy Mining Co. have voted to rejoin the labor union they left nine years ago.

The workers, employed at Quincy's reclamation plant and smelter in Houghton County, voted 62-5 for affiliation with the United Steelworkers Union, union spokesmen said.

Quincy workers left the USW in 1957 after the firm threatened to cease operations because it said it could not operate profitably while paying wage scales demanded by the union.

Special Force Camp Is Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars overwhelmed the isolated Ashau Special Forces camp tonight after a fierce, two-day fight put up by several hundred mountain tribesmen and their 15 to 20 U.S. advisers.

The commander of the U.S. Special Forces detachment at Da Nang, Lt. Col. Kenneth B. Lacey, pronounced the doom of the garrison which is in the forested hills near the Laotian border. "We closed Ashau at 5:45 p.m. this evening," he said.

Casualties among both the Americans and Montagnard defenders were heavy. But Col. William McKean, commander of Special Forces in the area 360 miles north of Saigon said his men "fought every inch of the way" and he thought the Communist pull was also high.

The Communists took the triangular-shaped fortress after it had been pounded into ruins and flames by Red attack and U.S. planes trying to drive them off. Heavy clouds, at times cutting the ceiling to 200 feet, seriously hindered the American pilots flying in almost over the tree tops.

Until the end the American "Green Berets" and their tough little Montagnard troops clung doggedly to a single bunker on the camp's northern trench line.

The attackers were described as a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment. Originally, they had been thought to be two companies — 200 or so men — of regular Viet Cong troops.

Before the collapse, helicopters flew out "a certain number of defenders," Lacey said. He gave no figures. The camp was defended by 15 to 20 Americans and about 300 Montagnards they had trained.

Lose Three Aircraft Three U.S. aircraft — two planes and a helicopter — were lost in the determined effort to save the camp.

The Communist capture of the camp dominated reports from the fighting zones. Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, the Communists showed little stomach for combating the U.S. Vietnamese and other Allied forces hunting them down.

A flurry of speculation dominated the political scene as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and other members of the ruling military junta met under heavy security at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

While Vietnamese air force planes circled overhead and tanks and troops guarded the compound, the military leaders held a special session amid a flurry of reports that one of its most powerful members, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thi, might be removed as commander of the 1st Army Corps.

This is the zone that includes the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp. This has long been known for his independent ways. The show of force by Ky, who still commands the air force, was described as a precaution and in no way connected with any coup attempt.

Weather Closes In The bad weather that plagued the defense of Ashau also curtailed air raids against North Viet Nam. Air Force and Navy pilots were limited to radar-guided runs in the Vinh area, but reported some hits on Route 15, a Communist supply line running south from Vinh.

Throughout the siege of the Special Forces camp, thick clouds kept U.S. planes from providing the effective air support that might have saved the camp, only a few minutes' flying time by jet from Da Nang, 60 miles away.

"We sent in a whole flock of helicopters but the ceiling closed right in on them," said Col. McKean.

Newsprint Goes Up $10 A Ton

NEW YORK (AP) — A $10-a-ton increase in the price of newsprint is spreading through the industry.

Three more producers Wednesday joined in the boost. They are British Columbia Forest Products, Ltd., Abitibi Paper Co. Ltd., and Anglo Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd.

The increases are effective April 1.

More than half of the Canadian newsprint production is now affected. Canadian companies supply 80 per cent of U. S. newsprint needs.

Crown Zellerbach Canada, Ltd., initiated the increase March 3. It was followed by Domtar, Ltd., and Consolidated Paper Corp.

The new price in the eastern United States will be $144 a ton and in the western United States $134.

Announcing the increase, Abitibi said, "since our last increase in March of 1957, Abitibi has absorbed large increases in labor costs, transportation, power, fuel and taxes."

Abitibi said its wage rates had gone up 5 per cent since 1957.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association called the increase "unwarranted and unjustified."

Schmidt Joins Detroit Lions' Coaching Staff

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran Detroit Lions middle linebacker Joe Schmidt retired as a player today and immediately accepted a Lions' coaching job.

At the same time, head coach Harry Gilmer announced another Lions' veteran, defensive halfback, Dick (Night Train) Lane, had accepted a front office job with the club.

Schmidt, 34, is the third new assistant coach named by the National Football League club for the 1966 season.

Schmidt will be middle linebacker coach, joining Sammy Baugh and Lou Rymkus who were named to coaching jobs earlier.

Rabbi Adler In Grave Condition

DETROIT (AP) — Rabbi Morris Adler clung to life today, nearly one month after he was shot in the head while conducting Sabbath services at his synagogue.

Sinai Hospital, where Adler, 59, has lain in a coma since the shooting Feb. 12, said he had developed circulatory and pulmonary complications. The hospital called his condition very critical.

The bulletin said the complications were not unexpected in view of Adler's prolonged coma and "constant supportive measures which have been necessary." Adler suffered brain damage from one bullet.

Adler was shot by Richard Wisnietzky, 23, a member of his congregation at Shaarey Edeek synagogue in suburban Southfield.

Wisnietzky then turned the gun on himself afterwards. He died three days later.

School District Plan Approved

MARQUETTE — The Marquette-Alger Intermediate School District reorganization plan which would consolidate 23 school districts into five or six has been approved by the State Committee of School District Reorganization in Lansing.

G. Vance Hiney of Negaunee, intermediate school district superintendent, said state officials praised the plan as one of the best proposed in the state.

If approved by voters in an election to be scheduled later this year, the plan would cut Marquette County school districts from 17 to five and possibly four and combine the six districts in Alger County into one.

The state recommended, however, that Grand Marais High School be kept open because of its distance (85 miles) from Munising and also asked consideration of a plan which would combine the proposed western Marquette County district of Michigamme, Spurr, Humboldt, Champion and Republic with the Ishpeming and Ely and Tilden Township district.

The Marquette-Alger reorganization committee voted 7-2 in favor of the larger Ishpeming district and the amended plan will be forwarded to the state for final approval.

Under the plan, Marquette city and Chocoma, Marquette, Skandia and Powell Townships would combine into a district with 4,870 students; the enlarged Ishpeming district would have 3,952 students; Forsyth (Gwin), Turin, Wells and Sands Townships would join to an enrollment of 3,098 students, and Negaunee would consolidate with Richmond Township making a total of 1,899 students.

In Alger County, all existing districts would combine, including the City of Munising and AuTrain, Mathias (Trenary), Limestone, Burt (Grand Marais) and Rock River (Chatham-Eben) Townships with a total of 2,276 students.

Whole Community Hails Federal Aid To Schools

By MRS. ALBERT WELDUM
ROCK — Some people may have doubts about Federal Aid to education, but not the people in this Maple Ridge community of about 900 persons.

The announcement by George Weingartner, school superintendent, that Rock Public Schools have received $21,927 in federal funds under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act was welcome news.

As one parent summed up the local opinion:

"We want our children to have the opportunity to learn all they can and some of our older persons would like to learn more ourselves. But how many of us can afford to travel to Marquette or Escanaba for additional learning?"

"The government spends money on so many different programs. Why not on something that benefits the whole community and our future generation?"

Improved Reading

The program has created much enthusiasm among the students as well as the parents. It has been set up in three projects:

Project I, reading improvement; Project II, expansion in library facilities; Project III, expansion and improvement of fine arts program, namely, music and art, each program totaling around $7,000.

The program will be carried over a period of three years for a comparable grant each year, or a total of $65,124.06.

The school will now offer instruction it was unable to before.

The changes include expansion of the remedial reading program with Mrs. Claudia Hoffmann as instructor. She has been working part time, but now devotes full time to helping some students with their reading.

She has from two to five students in a class, with a total of about 30 students in the program. She is very enthusiastic about it and feels it has helped students a great deal. Reading is very important, she says, and sometimes many a discipline problem has been solved when the child learns to read better and does not feel handicapped because he is unable to read as well as others in his class.

Library And Art

Mrs. Jeanette Vogt, has charge of the library facilities. Mrs. Janine Kupfer, from K. I. Sawyer, a graduate of the University of Arizona, B. A. in education, has replaced Mrs. Vogt in teaching the 4-5th grades.

Mrs. Vogt, enthused about the library, is now ordering new books for adults and students, fiction and non-fiction. There are about 30 periodicals available at the library. It is open to adults in the community as well the students, and anyone may come to read or take out books anytime during school days. A schedule for summer will be set up later.

THE LIBRARY is being enriched with additional books and is open to the public during school days. Pictured is Mrs. Jeanette Vogt, librarian, and some of the students.

Students are now able to study anytime in the library and obtain help in getting reference material. The fine arts program has caused the most excitement. Mrs. Leslie Sandefur, Escanaba, a graduate of Evansville College with a bachelor of Arts degree (cum-laude) and a major in art, is teaching the art courses.

Many students show real talent, she said, and the display of art work proves this. Art is not just for people who have talent for drawing, she says. It is course that teaches line, design, balance, color and other factors important to the appreciation of beauty all around us. For those students who are interested in getting a credit for the course, there will be summer classes. She hopes to work outdoors with water colors. However, details will have to be worked out later.

Mrs. Caroline Kaminen, a graduate of University of Valparaiso, Ind., with a major in music and A. B. degree, has taken over the instruction of the chorus and is also giving piano lessons.

The forming of a band, something Rock has hoped for many years, has stirred much interest. John Violetta of Ishpeming is the instructor. Instruments will be for rent or purchase. Approximately 50 students have signed up the first week.

Instruments include flutes, clarinets, saxophones, cornets, drums and trombones. He has distributed song flutes to students now so they may learn notes and fingering and become more familiar with music.

New approaches to guidance and counseling, pre-school programs, adult education and dual enrollments may be supported. Considerable thought has been given to some kind of an adult education program for the 1966-67 school year.

Bankers Finishing Course At NMU

MARQUETTE — Nineteen banking personnel from 15 Michigan and two Wisconsin communities will complete the first two-week session of the second Northern Michigan School of Banking Friday.

The school is sponsored by Northern Michigan University and Group 1 of the Michigan Bankers Association. Group 1 consists of the 49 banks in the Upper Peninsula.

Banking personnel who will complete the first part of the current program include: Lowell Hebbard, Escanaba, Escanaba National Bank; Morris Laux, Manistique, First National Bank; Richard Nebel, Munising, People's State Bank; Warren Hagen, St. Ignace, First National Bank.

Explorer Post Needs Advisor

Explorer Post 444 of the Boy Scouts of America, which has been active in conservation and first aid work in Delta County, needs an adult advisor.

The problem was discussed at a meeting of post officials, committeemen and special members with Warren Danzer, Red Buck District scout executive, at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Tuesday night. Fears were expressed that unless an advisor is found, some of the post's activities might have to be curtailed.

Included in future plans is Emergency Preparedness training under the Red Cross and Escanaba Fire Department and training in first aid to allow post members to serve as instructors for area Boy Scout troops.

Donald Seymour, post committeeman, asked that anyone interested in serving as an advisor or associate advisor contact him for Danzer.

Five-Year Boom For Car Makers Breaks Records

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson talks about it in the White House.

Joe Doak, the auto worker, discusses it happily with his buddies while standing in line at the bank.

The topic of conversation is the five-year boom in the nation's economy, and particularly in the automotive industry.

This half-decade of affluence is what the President described earlier this year in his economic message to Congress as "the greatest upsurge of economic well-being in the history of any nation."

It is a five-year upsurge in which Chrysler Corp. recorded a 2,000 per cent—that's right,

2,000 per cent — increase in profits.

At the same time, Chrysler's sales rose 149 per cent.

General Motors Corp., giant of industry and the world's most profitable corporation, saw its profits ascend 137 per cent in 1965 over 1961. And that 137 per cent is measured in more than a billion dollars.

GM's sales climbed 82 per cent in these last five years.

Ford Motor Co., second biggest of the "Big Three" auto makers, said its sales rose nearly 72 per cent and its profits soared more than 71 per cent during the five years.

An average of 367,145 additional men and women went to work for the Big Three during those five years. This increased the total worldwide employment of the major auto firms in 1965 to 1,265,854.

In terms of wages, this prosperity meant an average paycheck of $160.69 a week to Ford's employees in the United States last year. This was 7 per cent more than the $149.77 the average Ford worker got in 1964.

At GM, the average worker spent nearly 43 hours a week on the job and got paid $159.55 for it in 1965.

Ford expects to spend $600 million on expansion and modernization this year in its North American operations. General Motors is looking forward to spending $1.4 billion.

With the exception of American Motors Corp., which is in an auto sales slump, the auto firms have reported record and near-record sales during the first two months this year. Many plants have been scheduling overtime for workers.

Joseph Reau Dies In Auto

Joseph "Bud" Reau, 67, of 1430 Lake Shore Drive, died while driving his automobile at 10:17 p. m. Wednesday in Escanaba. He was alone in the automobile, police reported.

The death occurred at 13th Ave. S. and 14th St. The car continued across the intersection, jumped the curb and came to a stop against a fence. The medical examiner reported that Mr. Reau apparently died before his car entered the intersection. The car was undamaged.

Mr. Reau was born in Marquette on July 24, 1898, and came to Escanaba about 40 years ago.

He was the former proprietor of the Reau Cash Store in the 800 block, Ludington St., and was later employed by the Birds Eye Veneer Co. His wife, Florence, died in 1961.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p. m. Friday.

Complete funeral services will be held at the Allo Funeral Home Chapel at 2 p. m. Saturday with the Rev. Jordan Telles officiating, and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Helping The U.P.

The Detroit News views with considerable skepticism the projected Upper Great Lakes Development Commission.

The federally sponsored project will enroll the governors and their appointees from Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota in a commission that will make an economic development plan for the three-state area for the next 5 or 10 years. The federal government, through the Commerce Department, will deal itself a big hand in the project, of course, and hold veto powers. And if the familiar pattern of federal aid prevails, we can expect federal jobs to grow up like radishes.

"We wonder," says the News editorially "what sort of permanent economic progress can be expected without more emphasis on private industry. While government aid can attract some industry, sustained economic growth requires something more. The area must revitalize the markets for its resources—and find new ones. This is the task of industry, not government."

"We wonder, too, what has happened to the planning which has already been undertaken by the various private groups interested in the region? One such organization operating in Michigan, Operation Action-U.P., has been working since 1963 and has made notable progress in defining both economic problems and potentials. Why is there need for duplication of effort and the delay which inevitably results?"

"We also wonder at the timing of the program, with its avowed purpose of aiding a 'depressed area.' Certainly today the economic difficulties of the region are less serious than in the past."

"In Michigan's Upper Peninsula, for example, economic prospects are very encouraging. U.P. mining firms face favorable markets, and neither research nor financing problems require outside assistance."

"The upward trend in the nation's demand for wood-based products is reflected in the growth potential of the forest industry."

"Increased leisure for most Americans and the resulting travel boom means higher income and employment levels in the U.P. tourist and recreation areas."

"Population has leveled off and is self-supporting. Unemployment, while still characteristically seasonal, is not unmanageable... and the people have a new optimism and have begun to seek industry more aggressively."

"So we wonder what the Upper Great Lakes Development Commission will really mean to Michigan. It shows little promise of living up to expectations and may be merely one more costly measure in a widening stream of hasty and ill-conceived government programs."

The News is properly concerned, but if the Lake States go for a nut-loose program they deserve federal takeover. Governor Romney isn't going to accept any such program.

We share the view that the economy of the area can be best helped by private industry, but there are some things that cooperation between the states and assistance from the federal government can do for the region.

If the federal government were to restore the Great Lakes fishery, a criminal loss of enormous proportions, it would restore a great industry to the Lake States, fish production, and give it a great new dimension—recreational fishing.

If the region were to be served by the Interstate Highway System (scenic section) it would be greatly benefitted.

If the states were even to agree among themselves to coordinate their scenic highway network development a great growth could be shared.

If the federal government were to give to the region the recreational facilities that it has provided in other regions the recreation business would be greatly stimulated and it can stand it. In Northern Michigan, at least, the promotion of recreational business is fumbling and inadequate.

The region's provisions for public schooling are not adequate to modern needs. Its medical services are not adequate in many places. Its industrial development is beginning to move under the stimulation of forces like those the News cites, but agriculturally the region needs a vitalization of enterprises based on the soil.

To assume, as so many do, that because there has been so much planning in the region that it has a plan for its development is to err. There will be no magic in a regional plan, but it could be the trigger for some needed coordination of efforts.

The Doctor Says:

Surgery Is Answer

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstad

Very little was heard about the wall of an artery occurs seven years ago. Like angina when the wall has been weakened by disease. This is a painful condition caused by obstruction of an artery in the body but is an artery, in this case an artery supplying the intestines. The obstruction may be caused by a clot formation or by hardening of the artery and the deposit of fat and calcium in the arterial wall.

A person with this disease usually complains of abdominal pain and tenderness that comes on a few minutes after eating. The larger the meal, the more severe the pain. Because the victim avoids eating, there is a progressive loss of weight. Bloating, nausea and constipation may also be present.

The diagnosis is made by introducing a radiopaque dye into the arterial system and getting X-ray pictures. Since this is not a simple procedure it is reserved for selected cases based on a careful evaluation of symptoms, physical examination and laboratory findings.

Once the disease is recognized a surgeon can use a plastic arterial graft to bypass the obstruction and re-establish circulation in the involved segment of the intestines. The reported results have been excellent. This marks another advance in blood vessel surgery.

Q — Can anything be done for an aneurysm in the abdomen?

Revolution At Lansing

Assertive Legislature

By JEAN WORTH

The most important change in state government in a decade or more is not reapportionment that gave the cities control of the Legislature, nor probably even the Constitutional Convention, but the new assertiveness of the Michigan Legislature.

In concept, the state government, like the federal government, has three equal branches, the executive or the governor's office, the legislative or the Legislature, and the judicial or the State Supreme Court. Practically the branches vary considerably in impact on state government depending upon social and economic change and the personalities of the principals.

When the governor and the majority of the Legislature were from the same party and the supreme court played outfield there was team play that has been lacking for two decades. Democratic Governor Williams had a Republican legislature for 12 years and now Republican Governor Romney has a Democratic Legislature.

The governor used to introduce the budget to set the tone for the Legislature's session and the new Constitution formalized this process. The new Democratic Legislature put the governor's budget in the waste basket and introduced its own. This is an evidence of the new assertiveness of the Legislature and it is much more than an exercise of its oaths by the new Democratic majority.

Another evidence of the new esteem in which the Legislature holds itself is its lack of apology or hesitancy about jacking up its own pay. At $10,000 a year base pay, plus expenses, the Michigan Legislature is the best paid in the nation, but it doesn't think that is good enough and it has been considering cracking on another $5,000.

The matter is before a citizens committee currently studying legislative salaries. A basic question in the study is whether the legislator should be considered a full time employee or a part time employee. House Majority Leader Bob Thaxler, (D-Bay City) says legislators are already full-time workers because of growing legislative labors.

Parties Divided
House Minority Leader Robert Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe) says there isn't enough work for a full-time Legislature and that the essence of self-government is citizen-government by non-professionals. But all the Republicans don't agree with Waldron. Rep. Joseph Swallow of Alpena says the Republicans should be for a full-time legislature.

This change in the Legislature was overdue, but it still could not have been implemented as effectively as it has been without the creation of the Legislative Service Bureau, run by a 14 member Legislative Council ordained by the 1963 State Constitution. Escanaba's Rep. Einar Erlundsen (D) is vice-chairman of the council and Senator Garland Lane (D-Flint) is chairman.

Donald J. Hoenshell, who covered part of the legislative beat for Detroit News for 12 years, was lured back to Lansing last year from his job as head of the News' City-County Bureau to become the $17,500-a-year director of the new Legislative Service Bureau.

Unfold Story
Here's his own story of the revolutionary change in the Michigan Legislature which has been so strongly influenced by the Legislative Service Bureau.

"The biggest untold story in Lansing," said Hoenshell "is the legislative scramble for facts. For the first time in my memory, legislators are really doing their homework. I had trouble recognizing the place and the people when I came back as director of the Bureau. The attitude was much more assertive, but legislators were demanding that they know more before pushing the voting buttons."

"People viewing this phenomenon for the first time have been trying to figure the reasons. I put it down to reapportionment, which produced younger and more aggressively interested legislators in both parties and perhaps the pay raise, which tended to attract people to office who might never have tried otherwise."

New Awareness
"But one of the most important factors, I believe, is a new awareness of state government in Michigan. The fact of your letter alone is great encouragement. It means that people are interested enough to wonder. The newspapers can be praised for a great deal of this new awareness. Starting with the Constitutional Convention and reapportionment, state government has been more exposed, better examined and made more goldfish bowl for its public disrobing than during any similar period in history."

"Others—notably professional governmental association magazines—have said legislatures all over the country are victims of scapegoatism. My own version is this:

"This is the time of year when every state claims it has the best weather and the worst legislature in the country."

Eager For Knowledge

"But never have I seen legislators so eager for knowledge. My research staff of 5 and the 6 lawyers have turned out more than 100 special research projects, ranging from a detailed analysis of existing law and the 1965 changes, to a roundup on public-parochial school relationships in Sweden."

"At the close of the 1965 session we prepared summaries of each bill which became law, with legal citations familiar to everyone. We added to these a statement of appropriations, the text of the Governor's vetoes and an index. At the start of this session we presented to each legislator a file box containing analysis of each of the 1,225 bills not acted upon in 1965 and still alive during 1966."

"To this we are adding analyses of each 1966 bill as it is introduced. (By law all bills must come through the Bureau, at least for screening as to form, and most of them originate there.)"

New Force Created

"For the leadership we are preparing daily notebooks containing copies of the bills on the calendar, our analyses of the bills and the analyses provided by administrative agencies... We have staffed study committees."

"To me, the greatest indication that this acknowledged assertiveness is healthy is the receptiveness of the Legislature to any program we develop that shows we will help them. This can be proved by the budget. The Bureau staff of 29 when I arrived now numbers 50. (It's budget has swelled from $190,000 to $350,000.)"

It will never be the same again at Lansing. The legislator won't have to fumble in voting on a 100-page recodification bill, he can get an analysis of from the Legislative Service Bureau. He isn't dependent upon lobbyists any more, nor upon the people who represent the state agencies, for information. He has his own sources of information.

The situation is bound to change state government importantly and some political scientists see in it a potential for development of a force that may rival the governor's authority because of its capacity to create legislative programs."

LANSING (AP)—The Public Service Commission has approved a $50,000 rate cut affecting 6,500 customers of Presque Isle Electric Cooperative Inc. The rural cooperative serves some 13,000 customers in Alcona, Alpena, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Isosco, Montmorency, Otsego, and Presque Isle counties.

Demos Fritter Power

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — From the Democrats' viewpoint, the best thing to be said about this year is that it is not 1968.

If it were, President Johnson, assuming he were then a candidate for re-election, might be in deep political trouble.

Conceived in terms of support from political figures rather than voters, his celebrated consensus is gone—shattered by the raging intramural controversy that pits leading and rank-and-file Democrats in Congress against him on his Viet Nam war policies.

Should that war go on at rising pace, without decision, through this year and then through 1967 and into 1968, the drumbeat of protesting voices within his own party may be that time sound like cannon fire in the President's ears.

The impendments are many. But if events go that way and he holds to present course against the pressures of his intra-party adversaries, he could become—by 1968—one of the most beleaguered presidents in American history.

The 1966 elections could add to his possible distress. If recently increased estimates of Democratic loss in Congress should materialize this fall, the party's margin in the House might be trimmed below working level—or even wiped out.

The net effect could be to allow the Republicans to block new Johnson domestic legislation and even to hamper already enacted Great Society programs by slashing requested money support.

Ironically, the expectation here is that such a major turnaround would come this autumn only if voters prove to be seriously disenchanted with the fact of the war and the Democrats' gravely divided counsels over it.

President Johnson could find himself hamstringed on the domestic front by the Republicans while drawing his principal foreign affairs support from them and suffering continuous hammer blows on Viet Nam from some of the most illustrious men in his own party.

Consider these latter figures. A host of them, standing today in the forefront of Johnson's opposition, are up for reelection in 1968. The list includes Sens. Fulbright of Arkansas, Morse of Oregon, Clark of Pennsylvania, Church of Idaho, McGovern of South Dakota, Nelson of Wisconsin, Gruening of Alaska.

After perhaps many months on the anti-Johnson firing line, major questions for them would abound.

Would they campaign for the President's policy? How would they accommodate to him? Of what use could they be to him, and he to them? What kind of Viet Nam platform plank could all of them stand upon?

It is not inconceivable the President's Democratic adversaries might try to dump him as 1968 nominee and rally around the new liberal hero, Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York. With far less fire in their eyes than these men, top party figures in 1948 sought to jettison Harry Truman as a burden to their ticket. They failed, of course.

No one thus far has taken seriously the published conjecture that a Lyndon Johnson, perhaps weary, discouraged, but somewhat content to husband his Great Society laurels, would step down in 1968 and let the nomination go to another.

So long as they are well and vigorous, it is the habit—indeed, almost an occupational ailment—of most presidents that they seek to finish what they have begun. Challenged, they are defensive, but also aggressive. They see themselves battling not just for their policies, but for their place in history.

It Happened Ann Landers

On This Date Thankful Bike Is Run Over, Not Small Child

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, March 10, the 69th day of 1966. There are 296 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1933, earthquakes in Southern California killed 120 persons and caused 50 million dollars in damage.

On this date: In 1864, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was made commander in chief of the Union armies.

In 1876, the first intelligible sentence was transmitted by telephone. The sentence, "Come here, Watson, I want you," was spoken by Alexander Graham Bell.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Lend-Lease Act.

In 1945, U. S. Superfortresses dumped 1,000 tons of fire bombs on Tokyo.

Ten years ago — A special Senate committee to investigate lobbying and campaign contributions elected Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., its chairman.

Five years ago — A fire in a coal mine in Fukuoka, Japan, killed 71 miners.

One year ago — A communique was issued in Moscow, at the end of a Communist party meeting, called for an end to bitterness between Moscow and Peking.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-age Canadian girl who loves her country and is very proud of it.

I just returned from a visit with an aunt and uncle who moved from Canada to Nevada last year. I learned from a neighbor girl that they had introduced themselves to everyone in the community as new arrivals from London, England (instead of London, Ontario).

I asked my aunt why they did that and she said, "U. S. citizens look down on Canadians. They think we are peculiar." Then she added, "They consider the English, on the other hand, quite elegant."

I never knew this before and am terribly hurt. Please explain.—YOUR NEIGHBOR TO THE NORTH

Dear Neighbor: Don't judge all U. S. citizens by a few ignoramus. Speaking for myself, I can tell you that I have met many Canadians and I find them refreshingly wholesome and charming—particularly the teen-agers.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is worrying herself sick over something and I need your help. Yvette (not her real name) has been ill off and on for a long time. Several months ago she went to a doctor, who did more for her than all the other doctors put together. Not only is she feeling fine but she is bright and cheerful for the first time in years.

Yvette wanted the doctor to know how grateful she was so she tried to hold his hand and tell him. He suddenly became very cool to her and has been that way ever since. Yvette now realizes that he misunderstood her intentions and she is sick over it.

The doctor is quite youthful and handsome and no doubt many women patients make passes at him. Yvette has never had a loving thought, much less a roving eye. She is an affectionate person who sometimes goes overboard to let people know she appreciates them. How can she get this across to the doctor so he will be friendly again? — UPSET, TOO

Dear Yvette: Yvette could have expressed her appreciation without trying to hold the doctor's hand. Suggest that she restrain herself on future visits. The doctor will become friendlier when she demonstrates by her behavior that she is not after him.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the mother who complained because her miserable neighbor ran over her son's bike in the driveway. The same thing happened to me and I am a miserable neighbor. I'm a pretty decent guy.

I felt bad about wrecking the kid's bike, but I was also mighty thankful that it was a bike I had run over and not a small child. When I confronted the parents with pieces of their son's bike they admitted their son had been extremely careless and happily accepted my proposal that we share the cost of a new bike.

I will never again back out without checking behind me. The boy has vowed that he will never again leave his bike in a driveway. So we both learned something.—SECOND CHANCE

Dear Second Chance: I hope all of us learned something from your letter. Thanks for the education.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health and destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Food And Drug Head Gets Action Quickly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new commissioner of food and drugs is a man of action — "I like to see things get done" — and he is showing it in trying to clean up during his first 90 days in office all pending drug cases that are ready for decision.

Dr. James L. Goddard took his oath as commissioner Jan. 18.

With a smile, he says he inherited a lot of long-standing drug cases which have been referred to as "the dead cats in the closet."

In a drive that already has led to many people in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare referring to him as "Go-Go Goddard," he has announced a number of major clean-up decisions in less than two months.

So far, these are topped by the sweeping action of Tuesday for ultimate removal from the market of all nonprescription antibiotic lozenges and some other antibiotic preparations which may be purchased without prescription and bear claims they are effective against sore throat.

A spokesman said the four orders added up to one of the most sweeping drug removals the agency ever has ordered.

Asked about his philosophy in reaching decisions with such widespread impact, Goddard said in an interview:

Remove Antibiotics
"Basically I try to take the facts available and make decision based on that factual data."

"This agency some two years ago offered the manufacturers of these antibiotic products an opportunity to come forward within 90 days with presentations as to the efficacy — the effectiveness of these drugs."

"There were no such submissions. I do feel that an undue length of time had passed, and that there can be no claim of precipitate action."

"I am not saying that the compounds can't be marketed without the antibiotic. I feel sure some will be. Many were made before antibiotics were available and they were useful and I feel sure some will again be marketed with the antibiotic removed."

He said that when he became commissioner he knew that the antibiotic proceeding had been pending a long time and asked for data on it. He is a physician, the first to head FDA in recent years, and is a career commissioned officer in the Public Health Service.

"There was a presentation several weeks ago by the staff," Goddard related. "I asked for more data. When I received it and was satisfied with it, I took action."

Things Get Done
"I like to see things get done. I don't do things just to do things but when I consider the available data sufficient on which to base action, I say let's go ahead with the decision."

"And, of course, there are ample safeguards for the manufacturers built into the administrative procedures which provide for public hearing."

He pointed out that the decision to require ultimate removal from the market of the hundreds of antibiotic products was based on failure to show effectiveness but added "some scientists viewed their continued use with concern, contending there are dangers in repeated taking of small doses of antibiotics."

The products already in the channels of manufacture, distribution and sale will not be seized or recalled, Goddard said, because it was not thought that the contended dangers "were pervasive enough to require a recall."

Danger Cited
The dangers the scientists cite, he said, are that sensitization of individuals may occur or that continued use of antibiotics in small dosages might contribute to development of resistant strains of bacteria.

"This was a part of the whole problem, as well as the lack of effectiveness," he said.

He also said there was the angle of economic protection of the consumer, "who has been led to believe a product will perform something, and when it doesn't, he is not getting his money's worth."

Town Helping Stricken Wife

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The 3,625 residents of nearby Mascoutah, Ill., have mobilized to help save the life of Mrs. John Votravin.

Mrs. Votravin, 38, the wife of a school teacher and mother of two sons, has taken her first home treatment on a kidney machine paid for with funds collected by the citizens of Mascoutah.

"I'm thankful," said Mrs. Votravin. "I didn't know I had so many friends."

The machine does the job ordinarily done by the kidneys.

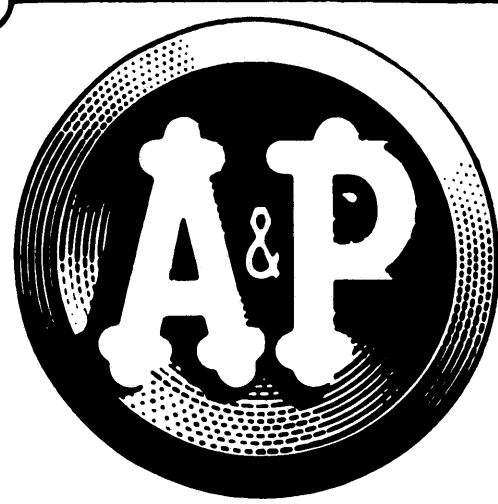

Mrs. Votravin has Bright's disease. Fellow parishioners at St. John United Church of Christ in Mascoutah started the drive Jan. 16. Two chairmen were selected for the campaign which already has raised more than $17,000. It costs $10,000 a year to operate the kidney machine.

All of us from the President on down work for you.

Frankly, where would we be without you and the many people like you?

We know. We'd still be in that little store on Vesey Street where we started more than 100 years ago.

That's why you're important. That's why we care so much about how we serve you... about being fair, honest and dependable.

Is this kind of attitude a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.

Rev. Seleen To Leave Escanaba

The Rev. D. Douglas Seleen, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, has notified the church congregation that he will resign his pastorate here, effective April 17, to accept a call from the Niles Community United Presbyterian Church in Niles, Ill.

Rev. Seleen has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church since April 27, 1958, enjoying the fourth longest pastorate in the church's 100 years existence. During the eight years of his ministry, 312 new members have been accepted in the church and contributions have increased from $27,000 a year to over $35,000.

Other contributions to the general growth of the church include a recent contribution of over $11,000 by the congregation to the Centennial Fund to repair and redecorate the church building in preparation for the 100th year celebration on June 11 and 12 of this year. The church also built a new four bedroom manse at 1401 S. 14th St.

Rev. Seleen has served as cumbraster of Pack 412, and presently is its committee chairman. He is a member of the Kiwanis club, and has served on various committees of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. He served two terms as president of the Delta County Ministerial Association and has been its secretary for two terms.

Rev. D. D. Seleen

Interdenominationally, Rev. Seleen is a member of the Protestant-Roman Catholic conference committee on mental health.

During his ministry here, Rev. Seleen has conducted church services every second week at the Harris Township Presbyterian church, is member of the Synod of Michigan national Missions Committee, and in the Presbytery of Mackinac for this district is a member of the Ministerial Relations and Christian Education committee, chairman of stewardship committee, treasurer of the Presbytery, stated clerk and counselor at the Presbytery church camp, Presbytery Point at Michigamme.

Rev. Seleen's new pastorate in Niles, a northwest suburb of Chicago, is comparatively new. The congregation was organized in 1952 and has a membership of 625. The sanctuary and educational units of the church were built in 1955. A seminary student is employed by the congregation to assist the minister in areas of Christian Education and Youth Work.

Reverend and Mrs. Seleen and their three children, Leila Claire, Chuckie and Billy will leave for Niles the weekend of April 17.

City Begins Tax Review

The Board met recently in organization and has set Monday and Tuesday, March 14 and 15 at the City Hall for the public to present suggestions and complaints on individual assessed valuations, both real and personal.

City Assessor Schmidt said that his report to the Board of Review indicated "a very healthy increase" in valuations in the city, such as Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.'s entry into the community.

The city's final property valuation figures must be certified to the State Tax Commission not later than April 5.

Mother Jailed For Neglecting Minor Children

Rose Beaver, 35, of Rte. 1, Ensign, began serving a 30-day sentence in the Delta County jail today after she pleaded guilty to charges of contributing to the delinquency of her six minor children when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone.

She was also placed on one-year probation and had an additional 60-days in jail suspended on the charges, which were filed by Delta County Sheriff C. A. (Cully) Johnson.

Johnson said the children, ranging in ages from three to 16 have been neglected by their mother, a widow. He said they would be cared for by a friend of the family with help from the County Welfare Dept. during the time their mother is in jail.

School Receives Insurance Bids; Seek Grid Field

Bids on liability, auto liability and property damage insurance were opened by the Board of Education Tuesday night and have been referred to a committee consisting of Mrs. Duane Waters and John Moffat.

Denny Insurance Agency bid $643.90 and Schoolcraft Agency $600.26. During the meeting Gordon Denny asked that a check of insurance coverages be made, noting he is carrying coverage on the new bus and one other agency is providing the same.

The board approved hiring Mrs. Foster Cain as school secretary beginning April 15. The present secretary plans to leave then.

A discussion was held on installation of a soft drink machine and use of the products of more than one firm in it. Three firms submitted prices. The matter was left to discretion of the superintendent.

A new football practice field will be needed due to construction of the medical care facility on the site of the former field, which is county-owned, it was reported. Three ball diamonds also will be affected. A plan is being arranged to secure another area for the recreational facilities.

Extra pay for the teacher coaching the varsity football squad was set at $600 and for the assistant, at $350.

A motion was made to accept a state grant of $10,310.28 for various student enrichment programs. The superintendent was authorized to prepare with other districts a proposal for a head start program.

Purchase of six new science tables, at cost of $4,274 was approved.

A letter of resignation was read from Edward Farrell, who teaches algebra, business English and typing. He will work as an accountant for Cleveland Cliffs Co. at Ishpeming.

A special meeting of the board to consider budget is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. March 22.

State Approves Health Plan

The newly-established Luce-Mackinac district health department and an Associated Health department consisting of the Alger-Schoolcraft and Luce-Mackinac districts have been approved by Dr. Albert E. Heutis, director of the Michigan Department of Health, Jack S. Carberry, chairman of the coordinating committee for the four counties reports.

In his letter of approval Dr. Heutis said the district is recognized under Act 306 of the Public Acts of 1927 as amended, and the associated plan, within the same reference also is approved, effective March 1, 1966.

The approval means that the new district and the Associated district will be eligible to receive state and federal funds. As a result intensified efforts will be made in eliminating unsanitary conditions connected with waste disposal, in assuring safe food and pure water supply and in many other health services.

Alger and Schoolcraft counties have been receiving such funds. Establishment of the Associated district with all four counties under one administration will augment existing new programs in the counties.

Dr. Gordon Eadie, director of the district health department said, "This is a very significant forward step for all four counties. I have been exceedingly gratified at the thorough support and wise counsel I have received from the 12-member coordinating committee and look forward to many years of working together."

Co-eds Rated Moral As Moms

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — Today's college coeds are no more promiscuous than their mothers were at the same age, says Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, a Harvard University psychiatrist.

Dr. Farnsworth, director of health services at Harvard, speaking at Haverford College, told about 100 visiting girls in the audience:

"Your behaviour and your mothers' behaviour is very similar."

"And they were nice girls too."

"As a physician, I observe that girls still get pregnant when they do not want to, and have to make choices that are not conducive to their future happiness," he said.

"Unwanted children keep society in a turmoil."

Haverford is an all-male school, but coeds from nearby schools sometimes attend special lectures.

Dr. Farnsworth said confusion about sex at college is a reflection of the confusion everywhere about it.

War Victim

MUSKEGON (AP) — Army Capt. Richard N. Gereau, 32, son of Mrs. Dorothy Gereau of Muskegon, was killed Saturday in Viet Nam as a passenger in a helicopter which exploded when struck by hostile ground fire. His mother was informed by official telegram. Gereau entered the Army in 1956 upon graduation from Michigan State University where he took part in the ROTC program.

FOLLOWING MOTHER—If she looks vaguely familiar, there's a good reason. Tina Marquand, 19, is the daughter of the late movie actress Maria Montez and French actor Jean Pierre Aumont. She's already done one movie in England and now is making her American debut in "Texas Across the River" at Hollywood's Universal Studios, where Maria was a star.

Dramatic Rise In Lake Levels Near

A dramatic increase in lake levels is predicted by the U. S. Lake Survey.

In the next 30 days Lake St. Clair's level is expected to rise eight inches, Erie and Ontario five inches and Lakes Huron and Michigan two inches.

Lake Superior, alone among the lakes to be controlled, is slated for a decrease of one inch.

Looking back a year to see how things are coming along, the Lake Survey reports Michigan and Huron are 17 inches above the level of this date in 1965. St. Clair is up 10 inches, Erie is up seven inches and Ontario is up 32 inches. Controlled Superior is up two inches.

WHISKY REBELLION

The famous Whisky Rebellion of 1794 was precipitated by a federal tax on United States whisky makers. President Washington sent troops to put down the rebellion, which was led by angry farmers in western Pennsylvania.

FIRST FOR COPTER—The already high battlefield value of the helicopter has been increased with development of a technique for aerial refueling. In the first successful test involving a copter and a fixed-wing plane, above, an Air Force CH-30 takes on fuel from a Marine Corps KC-130F tanker over Cherry Point, N.C. The refueling experiment took only three minutes and means the range of helicopters can be greatly extended.

Rapid River

Mrs. Arlene Potvin returned to Rapid River after a two week visit with her son, Robert Potvin and daughter, Mrs. E. Niles of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schoenberg of Rapid River made a trip to Fox Point, suburb of Milwaukee, where they visited with Mr. Schoenberg's nephew and family, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Zuege.

The due date for topical fluoride enrollment cards is Tuesday, March 15. The card and fee should be mailed to Mrs. Gail Larsen, Rapid River. Word has been received from Ray LaBumard that he is enjoying his stay in Missouri. Ray would like to hear from his friends. His address is P.O. Box 387, Tipton, Missouri, care of James Prestage.

Rapid River 7th and 8th grade basketball team are the southern division champions of the Junior High Central League. The southern division includes teams from Cooks, Garden, Nahma, and Rapid River. This is the third consecutive year Rapid River has won the championship. Bernard Olson is the team's coach.

The room divider certain has been made and installed at Rapid River's Congregational Church parish hall. The material for the curtain was purchased from memorial funds given to the church by Ray LaBumard in memory of his wife, Abby. Mrs. Albert Bond made and installed the curtain.

ILLUMINATION

In railroad, the first attempt at night illumination was a crude step taken by an engineer who attached a small flat-car to the front of the locomotive. He covered the car's floor with a heavy layer of sand on which he kept a bonfire of pine knots.

Future Nurses In Fund Drive

The Future Nurses Club will sponsor a Spring Hat Sale in the cafeteria of the James T. Jones School Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to use the Dakota Ave. entrance.

Proceeds will be used to finance the spring banquet to honor senior club members, and to provide the club's contribution to the Scholarship Fund.

According to Miss Elizabeth Nelson, school nurse, who is the director of the club, there are about 45 girls active in the club at this time. Kathy Sullivan is the president and Mrs. Maurice Buchmiller and Mrs. Otto Hult are also adult directors. The Child's Welfare Club sponsors the group.

The purpose of Future Nurses Clubs is to encourage young girls to consider not only nursing careers but any branch of the many health programs available.

The girls have been extremely active during the past year doing volunteer work at St. Francis Hospital, assisting the Child's Welfare Club with the Christmas Basket project, assisting at all Blood Banks and school immunization clinics. They also were co-hostesses for the U.P. Rally in October.

A field trip to the Veterans Hospital in Iron Mountain is planned for March 28 and their annual Pinning Ceremony will be held April 18 when 22 new members will receive their Future Nurses Pins.

SPACE COMMUTER—Not a plane, but technically a "Lifting Body." The first model of a new breed of maneuverable space vehicles, the HL-10, capable of returning to earth under pilot control has been delivered to the NASA Flight Research Center at Edwards, Calif. Wingless, it achieves aerodynamic lift from the triangular shape of the body. In the first flight test, planned for the near future, the HL-10 will be launched from a B-52 bomber at 45,000 feet for a powerless glide at 300 m.p.h. to a landing.

Indian Troops Push Deeper In Assam Jungles

SHILLONG, India (AP)—Indian army columns pushed through sniper-infested jungle today toward two major towns overrun by Mizo tribesmen in southeast Assam State.

An official spokesman said the relief parties set out from Aijal, headquarters town for the Massachusetts-size district that extends down between East Pakistan and Burma. Their objectives were Champhal, near the Burmese border, and Lungieh, to the south.

Dawngawn Attacked
The spokesman said rebels who had been attacking Dawngawn, near Aijal, "have been dispersed and casualties have been inflicted." Aijal was also overrun but was recaptured.

"Casualties on our side have been very light," he said. "Since the Mizo attacks have been at night, it is difficult to say what their casualties have been but we presumed they were very heavy."

Reporters Barred
Newsmen are prohibited from entering the Mizo district.

The spokesman denied one published report that an air force plane was hit by ground fire while strafing a rebel position.

Newsmen were asked not to use the terms "revolt" and "rebellion" and instead to call the Mizos misguided or lawless elements. The government is preparing leaflets which are to be dropped over Mizo territory urging the tribesmen to abandon their uprising.

Sneaky Mosquito

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The malaria mosquito is a sneakier enemy than even the Viet Cong, says a consultant to the U.S. surgeon general.

Col. Robert M. Altman, an entomologist, says millions of dollars are being spent in Viet Nam to fight the mosquito.

"We can get rid of the Viet Cong," he said, "but the mosquitoes are still there."

Inflation Puzzles Joe Doe As Well As Finance Pros

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The rising cost of living — and of doing business — has Americans wondering if they're in for another round of inflation. Or, as most probably would phrase it, if tomorrow's paycheck will buy even less than today's.

As government officials and businessmen debate the complex problem of inflation and what to do about it, here are some simplified answers to the questions many people are asking today:

Q — What is inflation?

A — To most people inflation is a persistent and substantial increase in the general level of prices. But many economists call this the end product of inflation, not inflation itself. They define inflation as the result of monetary policy: "too many dollars chasing too few goods."

Q — Do we have "too many dollars" today?

A — Bankers cite the unusual rise in the supply of money and credit since last summer and say that this has given businessmen and consumers the wherewithal to bid up prices of goods. Government officials contend the money increase was needed to feed the economic growth which cut the jobless rate to 3.7 per cent for the first time in nine years.

Rise Speeded

Q — How do you tell inflation from the price increases we've been having right along?

A — By how much and how fast prices rise. The cost of living for several years rose at about 1.2 per cent a year and was called noninflationary. But in 1965 the rate jumped to 2 per cent. Bankers call this 2 per cent rise inflationary. Washington officials say 3 per cent would be the danger point and that what we've been having is "economic growth" rather than "inflation."

Q — Would 3 per cent be a big jump, historically?

A — No. The last time we had what everyone agreed was inflation was in the Korean War period. Between June 1950 and March 1951 the consumer price index rose by an average of 0.8 per cent a month. More important to the economy, wholesale prices rose an average of 1.8 per cent a month.

Hits Fixed Income

Q — How is the wholesale price index behaving now?

A — After several years of being practically stationary, the index has jumped 4.6 per cent since June 1964. And the rise in recent months has been the steepest.

Q — Who are the first victims of inflation?

A — Those who live on fixed incomes. These include the elderly and retired. Their pensions or Social Security checks buy less of what they need, and they can't hope for a pay increase to offset this. All savers are hurt, whether it be those who put money in banks, in insurance, or in bonds. When they use the savings, inflation has cut their market value just as if part of the savings had been stolen outright.

Q — Why do some enjoy inflation in its early stages?

A — Rising prices can bring rising wages, or capital gains on such things as common stocks, real estate and art objects. For a time inflation heats up the economy, makes more jobs for those producing more goods to be sold at the higher price. Business looks better, profits are higher — if worth less when spent. Then the bubble bursts and most folk discover they're worse off than before.

Next: What to do about inflation — and when to do it.

Only Two Titlists Remain

State Class A Champion Knocked Out Of Tourney

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The number of defending champions still in the Michigan high school basketball tournament was reduced to two Wednesday night when seventh-ranked Kalamazoo Central eliminated Class A kingpin Benton Harbor, 74-57.

Muskegon Christian, the defending titlist in Class C, was ousted in district play, River Rouge in Class B and Covert in Class D are the two defending champs still in the running.

Fourth-ranked Muskegon Heights was surprised by East Lansing, 85-69, in another Class A tilt, but four other ranked teams in action were victorious.

Eighth-ranked Ann Arbor clipped Melvindale, 76-62, in Class A; seventh-ranked Marysville slipped past Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port, 75-74, and 10th-ranked Willow Run got by Blissfield, 80-76, in Class B, while top-rated Frankenthuth remained unbeaten with a close 58-57 decision over Breckenridge in Class C.

Class A teams dominated the second full night of regional play with eight games.

In the feature game, Kalamazoo Central was tied four times in the early going, but went ahead for keeps when it forged to a 20-19 lead. Al Johnson had 25 points for the winners.

East Lansing broke a 7-7 deadlock and was never headed as John Fuzak scored 26 points to pace the upset of Muskegon Heights.

Larry Moore's 27 points showed the way as Detroit Mumford edged Pershing, 72-71, and Bill Fraumann had 23 in Ann Arbor's 76-62 victory over Melvindale in some of the other A games.

Holly, leading all the way, got 22 points from Bill Taylor in defeating West Bloomfield, 67-57, in another Class B game.

Frankenthuth held a 30-22 half-time edge over Breckenridge but had to battle back a couple of times before pushing to a late three-point lead and holding on for the win.

Standish-Sterling once led by as many as 20 points, only to see Yale battle back to cut the gap to three points, before taking a 60-54 verdict in another Class C game.

Charles Lay scored 23 points in Leslie's 83-69 thumping of Brooklyn; Bob Butler scored 20 for the winners and Mike Krezinski 21 for the losers in Onsted's 86-68 trouncing of Wayne St. Mary and Traverse City St. Francis bumped Benzie Central, 69-66, with Dan Burden getting 18 points to lead the victors and Kim Lathwell 23 for Benzie, in other C games.

Ruth SS. Peter & Paul overcame a 14-point deficit in the fourth quarter, tied Peck 51-all in regulation time and went on to score a 60-54 victory, while Atlanta outscored Cooks, 21-12, in the final quarter to take a 66-53 decision in the only Class D game.

Michigan Faces Dangerous Foe In Tourney Tilt

By The Associated Press

Virginia Tech and Western Kentucky, underdogs in college basketball's major postseason tournaments, the NIT and the NCAA, got pats on the back today.

Virginia Tech opposes the favored Temple Owls in the opening game of the NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden tonight. Western Kentucky is pitted against Michigan in the first round of the NCAA Midwest regional at Iowa City, Iowa, Friday night.

"We don't think anything Temple will do will surprise us," said Howie Shannon, Virginia Tech coach. The Gobblers haven't played since Feb. 19 when they ended their regular season at 19-4, but Shannon said his boys have "looked awfully sharp in practice."

"We seem more eager now than we have all season," Shannon concluded in giving his team a vote of confidence against the Owls, 20-6.

The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers, 24-2, got their pat on the back from George Ireland, coach of the Chicago Loyola Ramblers, who were upset by the Hilltoppers last Monday.

"If they have a good night they'll beat Michigan," Ireland said. "And, if they get by Michigan, they can beat Kentucky."

He referred to the nationally top-ranked Kentucky Wildcats, who play Dayton in Friday's first game at Iowa City.

NCAA regional doubleheaders also will be held Friday at Raleigh, N.C., Lubbock, Tex., and Los Angeles.

De Paul and NYU clash in tonight's second game of the NIT doubleheader in New York.

The small - college tournaments, the NCAA and NAIA, got down to the semifinals and quarter-finals, respectively.

In the round of four of the NCAA small-college at Evansville, Ind., tonight Southern Illinois meets North Dakota and Akron takes on Kentucky Wesleyan. Southern Illinois beat Fresno State 93-70, Akron downed Long Island 74-68, North Dakota edged Abilene Christian 63-62, and Kentucky Wesleyan overcame Central Connecticut 84-76 Wednesday night.

In the NAIA quarter-finals at Kansas City tonight, Grambling meets Rockhurst, Oklahoma Baptist opposes Carson Newman, Norfolk State is pitted against Central State of Ohio and Georgia Southern goes against Illinois Wesleyan.

Pena Better Than Lolich?

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Orlando Pena better than Mickey Lolich?

For the moment, at least, that's the way it appears after Tigers' Manager Charlie Dressen announced Wednesday that the forkball-throwing Pena would replace Lolich in Saturday's game against the Minnesota Twins.

Pena, Denny McLain and Bill Monbouquette will each hurl three innings in the Grapefruit League opener.

The reason for the change in pitchers is simple—the zing is gone from Lolich's curve ball.

Dressen announced the switch after watching Lolich throw batting practice.

"He had to throw sidearm to get the curve over and that's no good," Dressen said.

Al Kaline played five innings in right field and collected a single in three trips as Bob Swift's regulars defeated Pat Mullin's team, 13-2, in the first nine-inning game of the spring.

Norm Cash belted a three-run homer and Jim Northrup accounted for the Mullins two runs with a first-inning shot.

Daryl Patterson and John Hiller pitched two-hit ball for the Swifts over the last six innings. Hank Aguirre also hurled for the winners, while Julio Navarro, Fred Gladding and Jim Brown worked for the Mullins.

Catcher Orlando McFarlane was taken to the hospital for x-rays after a Patterson fast ball hit him above the left wrist.

Preliminary reports revealed no fracture in McFarlane's arm. Dressen had scheduled another squad game today.

Terrell Turns Down New Fight Contract

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A dramatic midnight announcement by Ernie Terrell in a police station has once again put the Terrell-Cassius Clay world heavyweight championship fight in the doubtful category. Will it or will it not be held in Toronto March 29?

"As of now the fight is off," Terrell said in rejecting the terms of the new contract sent him by the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto where the fight apparently had found a home. It had been turned down in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Montreal, the state of Vermont and Verdun, Quebec.

Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, balked at the provisions in the contract which he said would make him controlled by the Maple Leaf Gardens and commit him to a return bout with George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, in June.

"If they would send a contract with me just fighting Clay and no other clauses, then I would fight Clay tonight and for thirty cents," Terrell said in the city room of the Atlantic City Press where he dictated a statement late Wednesday night.

He made his "the fight is off," statement later from the police station in nearby Ventnor, N.J., where he had gone to avoid telephone calls.

"This new contract makes it impossible for me to go through with the fight on these terms," Terrell said. "In the original agreement I had a guarantee of $50,000 from the live gate and $100,000 from the ancillary rights on closed-circuit television, and $12,500 was to be paid for training expenses."

"In this new contract there is no guarantee and I haven't received any expenses. And Maple Leaf Gardens wants me to sign a contract where I would have to fight George Chuvalo two months later for the Gardens choosing the ancillary or closed-circuit promoters."

Terrell outpointed Chuvalo in a 15-rounder Nov. 1 in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. "Why should I fight him again?" asked Terrell, adding, "I'm not against fighting Chuvalo, but I want it on my terms."

Harold Ballard, executive vice president of Maple Leaf Gardens, said in Toronto that there would be no fight unless the winner agrees to meet Chuvalo.

"I'm not signing anything until Clay and Terrell agree to the terms, including a defense against Chuvalo in June," Ballard said. "If they don't agree, there's no fight here March 29."

"Tough. That's just too bad," Terrell commented.

"I didn't give the power of attorney to anyone," he added when told of Ballard's comment that Robert Arum, an officer of Main Bout, Inc., of New York, which owns the ancillary rights, had power of attorney to sign a contract for both Clay and Terrell "and he has signed the contract."

In New York, a spokesman for Main Bout said, "We knew Terrell was dissatisfied, but as far as we know this matter was supposed to have been straightened out."

Meantime, Terrell said, he will continue to train at nearby Pleasantville, N.J.

There was no immediate comment from Clay. The champion was on his way from Miami to New York.

Lakers Clinch Division Crown

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers have won their second straight Western Division championship in the National Basketball Association and their fourth in five years.

Only a second-place finish to San Francisco in 1964 and a similar runner-up position to St. Louis in 1960 has prevented a streak of six straight Western titles for the Lakers.

The Lakers wrapped up 1966 Western Division laurels by edging the Cincinnati Royals 119-116 Wednesday night in a nip-and-tuck game at Indianapolis. Four free throws, two each by Elgin Baylor and LeRoy Ellis, sewed it up for the Lakers after the Royals had pulled to within 115-114 with 90 seconds left.

The victory gave the Lakers a won-lost record of 42-33. Thus they can lose all five of their remaining games and still finish ahead of the runner-up Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets got whipped by San Francisco at Seattle 125-115 and now have lost seven more games than the Lakers.

Meantime, the Philadelphia 76ers increased their Eastern Division lead over the champion Boston Celtics to one full game with a 123-115 home triumph over the St. Louis Hawks. Both the 76ers and Celtics have five games left.

The veteran duo of Jerry West and Baylor paced the Lakers over the Royals. West hit for 31 points and Baylor 27 to offset a 39-point effort by Oscar Robertson for Cincinnati.

Philadelphia made it six straight victories as Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer each got 31 points against the Hawks. Big Wilt also grabbed 36 rebounds.

Hope Star Back On Honor Squad

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Clare VanWieren of Hope was the only first team repeater on the All-MIAA basketball team announced today.

Joining VanWieren on the first team are Floyd Brady of Hope, Bill DeHorn of Calvin, Jim Peters of Kalamazoo and Gordon Loftis of Olivet.

Ed Douma and Kim Campbell of Calvin, Roy Anker of Hope, Mark Garrett of Adrian and Tom Crawford of Kalamazoo comprise the second team.

VanWieren and Peters are the only seniors on the first team. Brady and Loftis are sophomores, while DeHorn is a freshman.

ST. IGNACE — One of the most successful basketball seasons in the history of the school came to an end for the Cooks Clippers here last night when they bowed to downstate Atlanta, 66-53, in Class D regional tournament action.

Coach Norman Jahn's cagers, who had registered 18 previous victories this season, couldn't get untracked against the Lower Michigan quint. The Clippers were unable to pry the lid off the basket, suffering through their coldest night of the entire season. They connected on less than 30 percent of their shots from the field.

The teams battled through a tight first period with Atlanta leading 12-11 at the end of the frame. The Clippers slipped far behind in the second canto, however, and took the halftime rest with a 32-22 deficit.

Cooks made a desperate comeback bid in the third quarter and fought to within a point of Coach Lyle McDonnell's Atlanta quint, 51-50, with three and a half minutes remaining in the contest.

That was the end of the line as the Clippers were able to add only two points to their total while Atlanta pumped in 15 in the stretch.

Phil Hartman, 5 foot 9 inch leader of the Clippers, closed out a brilliant prep career by scoring seven field goals and one free throw for 15 points. That boosted his season total to 572 in 23 games, third highest in the Upper Peninsula this season.

Bruce Swagart led the Clippers in scoring with 19 points and Neil Hartman came through with 13 in the finale.

Slumping Wings Continue Skid

TORONTO (AP) — The slumping Detroit Red Wings fell deeper into fourth place in the tight National Hockey League race Wednesday, dropping a 1-0 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The shutout was the third in five games for Leaf goalie Bruce Gamble, brought up from Tulsa a week ago.

Toronto moved to within four points of third-place Chicago, a 1-0 loser to New York, and within five points of first place Montreal which dropped a 3-1 decision to Boston.

Frank Mahovlich slapped home a late first period goal on a power play to give Toronto its victory over Detroit. Detroit was two men short and the Leafs had one man in the penalty box at the time.

The goal, Mahovlich's 28th of the season, stretched Toronto's unbeaten string to eight games.

Chicago's Bobby Hull was halted for the third straight time in New York's victory over the Black Hawks. Hull scored his 50th goal a week ago and one more would give him the all-time NHL single season scoring mark.

Earl Ingarfield won it for New York with a third period goal.

Oliver and Johnny Bucyk carried last place Boston to victory at Montreal's Forum.

Montreal scored first on Bobby Rousseau's tally in the opening period but Boston knotted the score on Gilles Marotte's unassisted goal after only 16 seconds of the second period.

Wills Moves Up To Ruth's Class

By The Associated Press

Maury Wills never has hit 60 homers, knocked in 170 runs or batted .393. Nevertheless, he's reached Babe Ruth's class.

General Manager Buzzie Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers confirmed Wills' status Wednesday in discussing the salary the flashy shortstop will receive this season.

Asked how much he offered Wills, Bavasi replied: "I can't tell you, but it'll be as much as Babe Ruth ever got."

Ruth's top salary with the New York Yankees was said to be $80,000.

Wills, however, wasn't on hand to hear about his step up in class. He hadn't reported to the Dodgers' spring training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., following his return earlier this week from Japan where he toured with his night club act.

In Los Angeles, however, Wills was quick to decline a step up to the class of teammates Sandy Kousser and Don Drysdale, the dynamic duo who are holding out for matching of three-year, $500,000 contracts.

"I'm not worth that much," said the 33-year-old base-stealing wizard.

Wills didn't say how much he thought he is worth, but at one time he said he would seek $100,000.

The Dodger captain, incidentally, never has hit more than six homers in one season, knocked in more than 48 runs and batted higher than .302. He has, however, stolen 104 bases in one season.

Sammy Is Back On Early Shift

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — After 30 years, golf has turned full cycle for old Sam Snead — he's back with the dew-swepters.

The sweet-swinging hillbilly from West Virginia made his season's debut on the pro tour today in the $100,000 Doral Open and he had to haul his aching bones out of bed to meet an 8:10 a.m. teeoff time.

"Good gosh, 8:10 — they must be joking," the Slammer moaned when he got sight of the pairings. "You'd think I was just starting on the tour."

The years have hardly made a dent on the rugged character who was born in Hot Springs, Va., 53 years ago and who went over to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to become one of the game's winningest and most popular personalities.

His swing is still like molasses rolling over hot biscuits. He walks with a jaunty, confident air, the familiar coconut straw hat covering his balding pate.

Galleries flock to his heels just to watch the rhythmic beauty of his swing. At the end of his round — whether he shoots a 68 or a 75 — admirers besiege him for autographs.

Even Arnie's Army, Jack's Pack and Lema's Legions will have their desertions when the field of 144 starts out after the $20,000 first prize.

Arnold Palmer, off to a sensational start, and Jack Nicklaus, back from a golfing safari in South Africa, are the favorites but nobody's overlooking Slam-bang Sam.

Snead won the Oakland open in 1937 at the age of 24 and he's been a gallery favorite down through the years, winning 116 titles — more than any golfer in history — but never the U.S. Open.

Sam is still bull strong and capable of winning any tournament — he proved it by capturing his eighth Greensboro Open last year — but he can't count on his putting.

"It's the first thing that goes — the putting nerves," Sam said. "My putting is miserable. I can hit the ball off the tee as far and as straight as I ever did, but those putting yips have got me."

Central Bounced From Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sixth-seeded Central Michigan was upset 90-70 by Oklahoma Baptist in the second round of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament Wednesday.

Al Tucker's 36 points and 14 rebounds showed the way for Oklahoma Baptist. Don Edwards led Central Michigan with 29.

The Bisons led all the way, taking a 59-26 lead into the second half after Central missed on all but 11 of 40 shots from the field in the first half.

Milwaukee Accuses Club Owners Of Rejecting Expansion Plans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The prosecution in Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against baseball is picturing National League club owners as skeptics who summarily rejected a proposal that would have given Milwaukee an expansion club in 1966 to replace the departing Braves.

The state apparently was seeking to use the flat rejection to support its accusation that National League members conspired to boycott Milwaukee as a major league city.

The abortive attempt of Milwaukee Brewers Inc., in December 1965, to obtain an expansion franchise in the senior circuit was described Wednesday by Allan H. (Bud) Selig, president of the organization.

Selig, facing additional cross-examination today, testified that the owners, meeting in Miami Beach, tossed cold water on the plans of a syndicate of wealthy Wisconsin industrialists, backed by $4.3 million in cash commitments, to fill the void left by the exodus of the Braves to Atlanta.

In the current suit before Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, Wisconsin contends that the National League is guilty of monopolistic practices in permitting the Braves to move and refusing to grant Milwaukee an expansion franchise.

The owners challenged the Milwaukee group's estimates of an anticipated minimum attendance of 480,000 at County Stadium in 1968, Selig said. They cast doubt also on proposed capitalization of $1.5 million, and questioned whether other expected resources, including a bank loan commitment of $1.5 million and promised loans from two commission firms — Sports Service and ABC Vending — would be adequate.

Moreover, said Selig, Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers said he "personally wasn't in favor of granting the application" unless what O'Malley described as a "political situation" in Milwaukee had improved.

The Dodger owner was quoted further as saying that the Milwaukee group "would be doing the right thing by withdrawing the franchise application, take a year to study the operation of other clubs, then resubmit the application the latter part of (next) September."

Under cross-examination by Atty. Earl Jinkinson, Chicago, Selig said he and seven other Milwaukee businessmen made overtures late in 1964 to Braves' Board Chairman William Bartholomew relative to possible purchase of the club. Jinkinson brought out that no "firm offer" ever had been made.

Perch Fishing Good, With Ice Reported Ideal

Snow and ice conditions on inland lakes in the Eastern U.P. are reported ideal for fishing.

Good perch fishing is reported on Millecoquins Lake in Mackinac County and Perch, Muskegon, Bass and Round lakes in Luce County, Brevoort and East Lakes in Mackinac and Indian Lake in Schoolcraft are rated good possibilities, the Conservation Department reports.

Large schools of perch have been observed in Tahquamenon Bay but fishermen haven't landed them, the department says.

Perch fishing at Hubert Lake in Chippewa is reported fair. Rock Bass in the 1/2 to 3/4 pound class are biting well just before dark, with perch eyes for bait. Some large smelt also were caught there.

In the Les Cheneaux area, perch fishing and ice conditions remain good, with wigglers the most successful bait. Fishing success has been spotty in the Cedarville-Hessel area. Evening fishing has been most productive. Those fishing in the area are asked to inquire first as to the safest routes to the fishing grounds.

Perch fishing has been fair on the east side of Sand Island in the St. Mary's River system. Ice is deteriorating rapidly due to recent rains and thaws. Fishermen have been asked to remove shanties from ice which has become weak.

ORGANIZED LABOR'S millions of union members are distributed unevenly throughout the country. According to a Labor Department survey based on 1964 figures, nearly half the total membership of 17,187,700 was accounted for by only five states with more than a million unionists each—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. Total membership was 29.5 per cent of all nonagricultural workers in the nation. Newspaper shows unionization percentages in the separate states. Not shown are Alaska, in the 30-40 per cent category, and Hawaii, with 20-30 per cent. Generally, the 19 states with so-called "right-to-work" laws on the books, banning union shops under a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which labor for years without success has sought to have Congress repeal, are among the lowest in percentages of union members.

Car Stereo, New Entertainment Industry Field

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Just when you think that the entertainment industry has developed every possible medium, along comes a new one.

This time it's stereo music in your car. No commercials, no screaming disc jockeys. Just stereophonic music to help you while away the miles on the highway.

The tape cartridge market is the talk of the recording business, and car dealers are anxiously eyeing the millions that might be reaped from the new field.

Car stereo seems so simple that it is surprising that someone didn't develop it sooner. Speakers are spotted in various locations in the car. A player is located under the dashboard.

All the driver has to do is turn on the machine and insert a plastic cartridge containing a continuous loop of tape. Instant stereo.

According to Billboard, which devoted a full issue to tape-cartridge recently, the new business started with the invention of George Eastman, a Los Angeles engineer. He began tinkering with a continuous-play tape in 1953 and four years later had developed a cartridge that contained 1,200 feet, or an hour of music.

Four years ago, Earl Muntz, the onetime Madman Muntz of used-car selling, started merchandising car installations and tape cartridges. The big push for the industry came last year when Ford offered as an optional feature in its 1966 cars a car stereo system developed jointly by RCA and Lear Jet Corp.

What does car stereo cost? If you were buying a new Thunderbird, you could get a player for $127.56. Installations can be made in your present car from $79.95 up. Cartridges cost from $2.95 for the cheaper pops to $6.98 for longhair music.

Most home tape recorders don't handle cartridges.

Would Duck Mayor Swap

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Citing excessive cost and little apparent benefit, Mayor Glenn Sperry says he may not take part this year in the Mayor's Exchange Day of Michigan Week.

South Haven is paired with Uby, a community of 819 persons on the eastern side of the state. Sperry says he would participate in the program if so directed by city council, but says he fails to see what benefit would be derived.

Predicts Growth

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's population, now estimated at 8,219,000, is expected to be between 9.9 million and 10.9 million by 1985, the U.S. Census Bureau predicts. The precise figure will depend on fertility rates and interstate migration, the bureau noted.

Alger Honors 4-H Leaders At Munising Dinner

Dick Larsen, Munising city manager, speaking at the Alger County 4-H leaders recognition banquet at LaMothe Hall Monday evening complimented 4-H leaders for being part of a program which helps young people to grow into mature positions of responsibility and leadership. Tom Ferguson, Northern Michigan University senior, presented a program of pantomimicry.

New leaders introduced included Mrs. Hazel Block and Mrs. Parnera Heacock, Grand Marais; Mrs. William Boucha, and Mrs. Harry Boucher, and Mrs. John D. Carr, Munising; and Mrs. Bruno Lindfors and Mrs. Arlene Maki, Chatham.

Extension Agent John Campana presented first year pins to Mrs. Herman Bailey and Mrs. Sally Hillman, Grand Marais; Mrs. William Conine, Kilauea; Mrs. Peggy Lockhart, Limestone; Peter Olli, Grand Marais; Mrs. Max Middaugh, Munising; and Mrs. Edgar Gage (honorary) Munising.

Receiving alumni awards were: Floyd T. Roberts, Ronald Smith, Chatham; Carolyn Veegline, University of Michigan; and Willard St. Onge, its second year of operation.

The island drew 129,000 visitors in its first season.

Windmill Is Lure

HOLLAND (AP) — Windmill Island, the tourist attraction site of a 200-year-old windmill imported to Holland from The Netherlands, opens April 29 for its second year of operation.

Auto Profits Bring Bonuses

DETROIT (AP) — Record 1965 profits of the auto industry will bring more than $200 million in bonuses to executives and salaried employees of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, industry circles report.

Proxy statements being prepared for annual stockholders meetings are expected to be issued next month. These statements usually report such bonuses.

The industry made no comment on the reports.

The reported bonuses would go to a total of 25,000 executives and salaried workers from the approximate $3 billion in total earnings last year of the industry's big three.

The reported bonus breakdown would be $130 million at General Motors, compared with $116 million in 1964; $61.6 million at Ford, compared with $44.4 million in 1964; and $21.4 million at Chrysler as against $21.5 million the year before.

Chrysler's total was reported decreased because a stock dividend increased shareholders' investment and cut the amount of money available for bonuses despite record profits.

American Motors ruled out bonuses for last year because of its sales lag.

The nine schools participating combine their federal aid funds to finance the program. One certified teacher and nine aids are teaching at the present time. Mrs. Neil McShane is assisting at the Garden school.

The summer school session will be conducted at Manistique and parents who want their children to attend are requested to contact Larry Lundell, superintendent of the Garden school.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Jack Halvorson reported that card parties given at Garden and Isabella added $95.45 to the PTA fund. Special prize award went to Mrs. George Froggatt and room count award to Mrs. Roland Boudreau. Lunch was served by Mrs. Earl Lester, Mrs. Milton Hazen and Mrs. William Hermes.

Birthday Party

The 66th birthday of John Cota was celebrated with a party planned by neighbors and held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cota Saturday, Feb. 26. Card games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Paul Guertin, Mrs. Orville Martin, Mrs. Joe Ouradnik, Mrs. Bernard Grenier and John Cota.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beaudre was baptized Sunday, Feb. 27 by Rev. James Donnelly at St. John's church. Godparents of the baby who was named Rose Mary are Mr. and Mrs. John LaVallee.

Ticket Corps

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit is going to have a civilian corps to help police ticket illegal car parkers. Both men and women will comprise it. Common Council has approved the plan.
